

EVERYONE DESERVES A SPA DAY.

ABOUT

Founded in 2011 by sisters Grace and Charlotte Locklear, Raleigh's Lumière day spa has gradually expanded throughout the area, opening two new locations in the last year.

Grace, who got her start as a freelance masseuse, and Charlotte, a food and wine critic with the News & Observer had a vision.

There are plenty of places to go for simply a manicure, a massage, or a wine tasting, but where can you get the full experience?

Luxury spas can come across as elitist or snobby, but the Locklear sisters believe everyone deserves the treat of a spa day and to feel beautiful. Lumière takes pride in a staff friendly and open to all kinds of North Carolinians.

SERVICES

After deciding to go into business together, Grace and Charlotte set out to create a spa with a diverse range of offerings for whatever your pampering needs are. They provide high-tech dermatological treatments, as well as all-natural skin care, and five types of massage services. Everything from the nail polish used in pedicures to the salt scrubs have been thoroughly researched to ensure they are free of harmful chemicals.

The massage therapists are all credentialed through the NC Licensed Massage and Bodywork Therapists Board. The cosmetologists and estheticians are all credentialed through the NC Board of Cosmetic Art Examiners. All of Lumière's professionals have over five years of experience prior to joining our team. Services offered include:
